BENEFICIARIES

Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children is one of the nation's leading pediatric centers for the treatment of orthopedic conditions, certain related neurological disorders and learning disabilities, like dyslexia. Last year, Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children provided ongoing care for more than 16,000 children. There is no charge for treatment at the hospital, and admission is open to Texas children from birth to 18 years of age. For more information, please visit www.tsrhc.org

Camp John Marc -- Special Camps for Special Kids.
Camp John Marc exists to improve the quality of life of Texas-area children with chronic illnesses or major physical disabilities, while providing necessary daily medical treatment. The essence of this camp program is: nurturing health-impaired children's positive self-image, providing peer interaction, allowing a chance for adventure and exploration in the great out-of-doors. Hopefully this will lead to an increased capacity to cope with their illness or disability. Camp John Marc utilizes community and medical volunteers to provide program support and quality medical care and treatment in the camp setting.
